Registration online: www.winconsortium.org

3rd WIN Symposium

in personalized cancer medicine

A significant step forward in patient care

A forum for open discussion in which academia and pharma will be addressing the rapidly advancing field of personalized cancer medicine

Dr. John Mendelsohn, President of the MD Anderson Cancer Center and Chairman of WIN Consortium

2011: Gateways to efficacy of cancer diagnostics and therapeutics

- > Evidence for efficacy of targeted therapies
- > Improving efficacy of biomarker-driven clinical trials
- > Discovering new targets and predictive biomarkers
- > Combinations of targeted drugs
- > Advances in technology, bioinformatics and systems biology

The scientific content of this event has been endorsed by

WN Worldwide Innovative Networking in personalized cancer medicine

July 6th-8th, 2011. Palais des Congrès de Paris. France

Dear Colleague,

The Worldwide Innovative Networking (WIN) Consortium invites you to attend the third WIN Annual Symposium, dedicated this year to a very challenging topic: Gateways to increasing the efficacy of cancer diagnostics and therapeutics.

The WIN Consortium, initiated by Institut Gustave Roussy (France) and The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center (USA), is a non-profit organization bringing together cancer centers from five continents to address the challenge of increasing the efficacy of global cancer healthcare through personalized therapy. The WIN Consortium aims to foster and facilitate cooperation between cancer centers, pharmaceutical and technology companies, patient advocacy groups, governmental institutions and other stakeholders in the field of early diagnosis and personalized, biomarker-driven treatment of cancer. The goal is to accelerate integration of groundbreaking discoveries into clinical practice in diverse populations, in order to significantly improve clinical outcomes and the quality of life of cancer patients, worldwide. Examples of questions for discussion and debate during WIN3 include:

- Determining the efficacy of targeted cancer therapies
- Determining the efficacy of genetic and molecular biomarkers for selecting patients likely to respond to targeted therapeutics
- Improved design of clinical trials with targeted therapies. Efficient comparisons. Appropriate endpoints. Combinations of therapies. Is randomization necessary?
- Building more effective collaborations between academia, industry and patients.
- Innovation in technologies that identify genetic and molecular abnormalities in cancers.
- Improvements in bioinformatics and applications of systems biology.

We aim to create a forum for open discussion, in which your expertise and input from all stakeholders in cancer drug development are crucial. The WIN Consortium was created to accelerate the pace and reduce the cost of translating effective cancer treatments to the bedside. We need every member and thought leader in the field to be committed and engaged to succeed in our mission.

The 22 founding member institutions of the WIN Consortium invite you to join in this forum, and we invite you and your institution to join the Consortium (<http://www.winconsortium.org>).

JOHN MENDELSON, M.D.

Chairman of WIN Consortium. President of University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center

American Society of Clinical Oncology
Making a world of difference in cancer care

This program has the American Society of Clinical Oncology's approval for quality of educational content. ASCO endorsement does not constitute medical advice. Health care providers should exercise their own independent medical judgement.

What WIN Consortium offers

An opportunity to make an impact on personalized cancer therapy across the globe by increasing the number of patients having access to innovative clinical trials and treatment with the latest innovative drugs

WIN Consortium aims to accelerate the drug development process with:

> Worldwide basis for innovative biomarker driven clinical trials

Diversity is the most important asset of WIN, which makes it unique and different from any other initiative. Our patients come from four continents (Asia, North and South America, Europe) plus the Middle East. Each clinical trial will involve a diverse population of patients who share an aberrant genetic function in their tumors, but have different genetic backgrounds and lifestyles that may impact responses to a therapy – a tremendous advantage in early Phase I/II studies.

> Access to experienced and active laboratory and clinical investigators in prestigious academic oncology centers

> Access to high quality, innovative technology platforms

> Support and expertise of outstanding technology partners

(currently Agilent Technologies, Life Technologies and GE Healthcare)

> Simultaneous conduct of trials in several cancer centers and several countries

> Continuity of preclinical, phase I, II and III clinical trials up to successful registration

> Standardization of procedures: biobanking, laboratory methods, enrollment of patients, quality assurance, and protocol review

NBCF is a founding member of the WIN Consortium created in 2010. Janelle Hail, founder and CEO of NBCF is a member of the board of directors and the steering committee of the WIN Consortium. The role of NBCF is sharing expertise in organizing structures and fundraising, and organizing educational and prevention efforts worldwide to improve quality of life of cancer patients. WIN Consortium proudly announces in its 3rd WIN Annual Symposium a breakthrough achievement of NBCF: Beyond the Shock educational program. BEYOND THE SHOCK™: Beyond the Shock™ is a comprehensive, multi-cultural online guide to understanding breast cancer. Created by the National Breast Cancer Foundation, Inc. (NBCF), it is a resource for women who have been diagnosed with breast cancer, a place for loved ones to gain a better understanding of the disease, and a tool for doctors to share information with their patients. Beyond the Shock™ is currently being translated in multiple languages with the mission to bring hope around the world. For more information visit: www.beyondtheshock.com

Practical information

WIN Symposium 2011

Badges

All participants will receive their name badge onsite. This badge cannot be exchanged and must be worn during the sessions.

Bank opening times

Banking hours in Paris are usually from 9 am to 5 pm, Monday to Friday. In the rest of France, banks are usually open from 10 am to 1 pm and from 3 pm to 5 pm, Tuesday to Saturday. Banks often close early on the day before a bank holiday.

Carpark

The Palais des Congrès has an underground carpark with direct access to the Congress centre (Capacity of 1800 spaces). Cost not included in registration fee.

Certificate of attendance

Participating delegates will receive a Certificate of Attendance.

Climate

The weather in Paris in July is usually warm with an average temperature of 25°C during the day.

Currency and foreign exchange

The national currency is EURO. Currency can be exchanged at all bank branches and Post Offices. "Bureaux de change" can also be found in large department stores, railway stations, airports and near tourist attractions.

Please note: although the exchange rate is fixed, commission rates are not. These must be clearly displayed.

Disclaimer

The Organising Committee and MF Congrès cannot accept liability for any injury or loss incurred by participants and/or persons accompanying them, nor for loss of, or damage to, their luggage and/or personal belongings.

Electricity

The power supply is 220 V, 50 Hz. Round European style two-pin plugs are used. Appliances designed to operate on 110/120 V require a voltage converter and a plug adapter.

Language

The official language of the Congress is English.

Local time

The time zone in Paris is GMT +1 hour.

Meals

Coffee/tea are included in the registration fee and will be served daily during the coffee breaks. A lunch box is included in the registration fee.

Smoking policy

Please note that smoking is not permitted in the Congress.

Travel information

Package information (flight + accommodation) will be available on the website: www.mfcongres.com

From the airport to the Palais des Congrès. An airport shuttle operated by Air France departs from Roissy Charles de Gaulle airport every 12 minutes. The bus stops just outside the Palais des Congrès and opposite the Meridien Etoile hotel. The bus fare from the airport to the city of Paris is around 13 Euros. Local number 82, 73, 43, 244 buses and the Petite Ceinture (PC) also stop at the Congress centre. On the RER, take line C and alight at Neuilly-Porte Maillot-Palais des Congrès station and by Metro, take Line 1 and alight Porte Maillot station. (www.ratp.com)

Car rental: All the large companies have offices both at the airport and in the city. Driving information: Speed limits in France are as follows: on motorways 130 km/h, on other roads 90 km/h, and in all cities and villages 50 km/h.

Venue

The 3rd WIN Symposium will be held at:

Palais des Congrès
